Teachers.

Fortunately, in spite of the dearth of teachers we secured valuable assistants to conduct the work of instruction in our schools. These teachers had records of successful experience elsewhere and they have done excellent work for us. They have inculcated in the pupils a commendable spirit of cooperative interest which augurs well for the future development of our school system. With the retention of our present staff, the schools will continue to prosper. In view of the unusual living conditions forced upon them we have secured our teaching staff at remarkably low salaries. The average wage is $630.00 for the year. This amounts to $12 per week for the twelve months during which a teacher must pay her living expenses. During the school year she must pay $6.00 per week for board and room, leaving $6.00 per week for clothing, traveling expenses, professional advancement, sickness, insurance, benevolence and thrift. No wonder that a noted educator said recently: "Teaching is not a profession now, it is a procession." The attractive financial returns of various branches of industry make it increasingly difficult to find men and women with consecrated ideals and missionary spirits who are willing to give the best years of their lives to the education of our children without the hope, at least, of a living wage in return. The situation is serious. Even by offering attractive wages teachers cannot be obtained in sufficient numbers to keep all schools open. The towns that provide the best conditions will suffer least in the pedagogical famine.

Our qualifications for teachers are becoming more rigid as we endeavor to surround our boys and girls with noble characters possessing a high standard of professional skill. It is no longer possible for a teacher to eke out her meagre stipend by gainful employment during the summer. She must make herself increasingly efficient by advanced professional study and by mental and physical recuperation. We should do all possible to aid our teachers to secure freshness and vigor in their work, which will react for the mental and moral growth of our children. The following recommendations are proffered for the purpose of remedying existing conditions:

1. A salary increase of 30% over the present schedule.
2. An appropriation of $50 to be distributed by the Board for the purpose of helping to defray the expenses of such teachers as may be selected to attend summer school courses.

School Organization.

In line with modern educational development, we should reorganize our program of study to conform to the findings of experts in education who have made exhaustive investigations looking toward the most rapid and thorough training of the body, mind and spirit of the normal child. It is our desire to bring our schools up to standard grade and to do this we should be able to pursue the curriculum suggested by the State Board of Education, which proposes concrete work in subjects which offer an opportunity for the child to display his inventive proclivities and which develop and sustain an interest in experimental activities. The line of demarcation for this progressive development is at the seventh grade. Here an introduction into several fields of knowledge such as Domestic and Practical Arts, Science, Mathematics and Foreign Languages often awakens a latent power or stimu-lates a desire for still further training. The old methods which were wedded to formal discipline so that the emphasis was upon subjects lending themselves most readily to drill and abstraction served to increase the rate of educational mortality. The new program furthermore is of assistance in the matter of vocational guidance. The courses for grades seven and eight are as follows: "A" subjects, United States' History and Civics, Elementary Science, Concrete Mathematics, French, Manual Training, Cooking and Sewing. "B and C" subjects; Composition, Current Events, Drawing, Gardens, Hygiene, Literature, Music, Plays and Games. This program is recommended as being entirely feasible for the District of Madbury.

Schoolhouse Accommodations.

The plan of centralization adopted by your Board has worked admirably for the betterment of instruction standards. The pupils have made good progress considering the handicap under which teachers labor when attempting instruction in the complete range of subjects in the elementary grades. To accomplish results approaching our pedagogical standards a teacher should have pupils in not more than three grades. A plan to confine a teacher's efforts to four grades would be an improvement over existing conditions.

The pupils in our schools are a splendid asset to our town, the best asset which it possesses. They are worthy of better school homes. Fortunately the State Board of Education proposes better educational facilities for rural schools and financial assistance to secure them. To receive this aid we must maintain approved schools in approved buildings. Our present schoolhouses do not conform to the minimum standard and fall short of what would constitute a commendable school home. If the buildings are to be used for school purposes, an investment of approximately $1,000 per building should be made in securing necessary alterations. To avoid this expenditure and further to strengthen our school system, the erection of a new three-room building near the town centre is recommended. The above outlined program then could be adopted and the work of each teacher limited to not more than four grades. The adoption of a plan for a central school always has operated to the financial as well as the educational advantage of a town. It serves to attract new residents, increase the value of property and ultimately to establish the tax rate at a stable and satisfactory per centum.

Morale.

The depressing effect of a lack of community spirit communicates itself very readily to the impressionable child. If parents are not sufficiently interested in our schools to visit them, to hold conferences with teachers, to require prompt and continuous attendance by their children, then the morale of any school system must remain low in spite of a zealous teaching and administrative staff. Our attendance record has not been as good as it should be. Interest in school life must be fostered by every conceivable method to remedy such a condition. Vocational courses, organized plays and games, in a well-equipped playground, social diversions, opportunity for public appearance at entertainments and dramatic exercises, all will aid in building up a better "school spirit."

Conclusion.

With full recognition of the claims of six districts which comprise his Supervisory Union, your Superintendent has endeavored to give an impartial allotment of his time, talent and energy to each one. He recognizes that twenty-four hours do not hold enough minutes to enable him to give his attention to the many problems pressing for solution. However, he is appreciative of the sympathetic support of the members of your Board, the loyal cooperation of our splendid staff of teachers, and the ready response of parents and pupils for the successful issue of any plans he may have promulgated.

Early in the year the entire corps of teachers in the Union were called together for a conference on aims and methods for the year's work. Among others, this observation was made: "The social efficiency of our product will be the test of our success as teachers. Our educated youth must possess a three-fold endowment: a fund of habits, a fund of ideals, and a fund of knowledge." We press on to this goal. An association of the teachers was formed and monthly meetings, at which attendance is voluntary, have been held. These have been conducted by the teachers themselves and have been provocative of much cultural value as well as the development of professional pride in achievement. Your Superintendent has been in attendance at each meeting of the Association. He has also attended the State Teachers' Associations of New Hampshire and Maine, the Rockingham and the Strafford County Institutes, four Superintendents' Conferences, held by the State Board, the New England Superintendents' Conference, and has given thirty public addresses.

In as much as the school year now ends on Aug. 31, the complete report of the year can be made only after that date, but it has been deemed wise to bring the above matters to your attention before the annual meeting of the District. Respectfully submitted,

JUSTIN O. WELLMAN,

Superintendent of Schools.
